GOVERNOR TALKS ON REASONS FOR DEFENSE PLANS

Presents Stand of Colors to Cadet Battalion, Honolulu
School for Boys.

In the presence of an interested gathering of territorial, army and navy officials and their ladies, Governor Pinkham yesterday afternoon presented a handsome stand of colors to the cadet battalion of the Honolulu School for Boys, Kaimuki.

Prior to the presentation, the cadets, attired in their natty white uniforms, and headed by Capt. Louis Fredericks, passed in review before the chief executive and visitors. The Hawaiian Band furnished the music. At the bugle call "to the colors," the battalion formed in front of the governor and listened to a brief, interesting talk. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, refreshments were served in the new cadet mess hall.

Many Present at Review.

Aside from the governor and his aide, Maj. James D. Dougherty, others present were Brig-Gen. Samuel I. Johnson and Lieut-Col. C. B. Cooper, of the National Guard of Hawaii; Brig-Gen. John P. Wisner, commanding the Hawaiian Department; Mrs. Wisner; Rear-Admiral Clifford J. Boush, commandant of the Honolulu Naval Station; Mrs. Boush; Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Frear; Mayor John C. Lane and Mrs. Lane; Lieut-Col. W. E. Ellis and Mrs. Ellis; Civil Engineer Parks, U. S. N., and Mrs. Parks; Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder.

In his talk to the cadets, the governor said, in part:

"You are here dedicating yourselves to the first steps in the art of war.

"Time was, not so long ago, that rural populations so vastly predominated that scarcely more than a marksman's eye and a steady nerve were necessary to make effective the familiar firearms of sportsmen, farmers and woodsmen, rendering it possible to hastily gather citizen armies to contend, with even chances, with similar foes.

"This conception of war still remains in the popular public mind to the confusion and embarrassment of efforts to place the United States of America on an impregnable basis for defense and offense.

Sees Greed Everywhere.

"Greed of power, greed of wealth, greed of expansion, greed of possessions, beliefs and domination are aggressively present in every human activity and ambition. For centuries unnumbered, the conscience of the world has been trying, by every ethical influence possible to summon, to induce mankind to restrain its passions and selfishness.

"Today, nearly every nation of importance on the earth, save those of South America, is either desperately at war or in a degree at war, as is our own country, designate our action as we may. As never before in all history is laid bare the human in mankind, and the fact that every art, science and invention we have so prided ourselves on is adding to the force and horror of war.

"It is humiliating in the last degree to contemplate the outcome of these centuries of ethical and religious effort, but, so long as we tolerate a code of ethics that enables us to praise, honor and receive the makers of armor plate and munitions of war and who found peace palaces and endowed universities, righteous conscience cannot prevail and wars will continue.

"You and your country are so involved, against your own and its will, that your country needs you and all her patriotic citizens to adequately prepare, not for aggression, but for defense. All patriots need a symbol toward which to look in peace and in war, and your symbol is your country's flag, the inspiring stars and stripes.

"Through the kindness of George Sherman, I have the honor of presenting to you your special standard, this flag of the United States of America, to so lead you in the time of peace that, at a proper age, your standard may be grouped with other American flags in march and field in the defense of your homes and the defense of the homes of all the American people."

At the present time about 2,200,000 acres are devoted to the raising of flax, chiefly in North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota and Montana. The flax is grown primarily for the seed from which linseed oil is manufactured. The annual crop amounts to about 20,000,000 bushels of seed and is valued at approximately $33,000,000. The crop also yields approximately 1,600,000 tons of straw, but of this only about 200,000 tons are put to any profitable use.

OUR YOUNG WOMEN

are so often subject to headache—languid, pale and nervous—because their blood is thin or insufficient. They are not really sick and hesitate to complain, but they lack that ambition and vivacity which is their birthright. They do not need drugs—but do need the tonic and nourishment in Scott's Emulsion that makes richer blood, fills hollow cheeks, suppresses nervousness and establishes strength. Nourishment alone makes blood and Scott's Emulsion is the essence of concentrated nourishment, free from wines, alcohols or opiates.

If mother or daughter is frail, pale or nervous, give her Scott's for one month and see the betterment. It has a wholesome, "nutty" flavor. Avoid substitutes. At any drug store.

Schofield Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, March 24.—Practically all of the troops from Schofield Barracks that have been for the past ten days scattered along the coast for reconnaissance work, will return to the post today or tomorrow. The three companies of the 25th Infantry were all in Wednesday. Battery A, 1st Field Artillery, returned yesterday from Mokuia. Battery B returns today from Haleiwa. The three battalions of the 1st Infantry that have been scattered along the North coast will all be in by tomorrow noon. A small detachment of the 1st Field Artillery under Lieut. Col. McMahon will return from Hauula tomorrow morning. Several small detachments from the 4th Cavalry, and a detachment of the 1st Field Artillery under Maj. W. S. Guignard will remain in the field probably a few days longer.

An interesting trip was made by a small detachment under Capt. Charles F. Bates last Wednesday, crossing the Waianae range from the west side to the east, and climbing to the top of Kaala, the highest peak of Oahu, 4030 feet above sea level. Only once before do the records show that Kaala was ascended from the west coast.

The detachment left Waianae at 7:15 a. m., and at noon were at the top of Kaala. After other explorations in that neighborhood, the detachment proceeded to Schofield Barracks where it arrived at 6 p. m.

With Capt. Bates were Lieut. Ernest J. Carr, 25th Infantry, one enlisted man and a Hawaiian boy. Capt. Bates reports that this was one of the most beautiful trips he has ever made. The party proceeded through the abandoned coffee plantation on the west slope of the range, and before reaching the top of Kaala encountered some very difficult climbing.

A few days previous the range was crossed at this point in the opposite direction by a detachment of the 25th Infantry under Lieut. Edward G. McCleave.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Maj. T. N. Horn, 1st Field Artillery, to Mrs. Howell Clinton, sister of Mrs. D. L. Howell, wife of the commanding officer at Fort Shafter.

YEAR HAS FLOWN BY SINCE F-4 WENT ON HER ILL-FATED TRIP

Tomorrow will be the first anniversary of the F-4 tragedy. The ill-fated submarine started out on a practice run on the morning of March 23, 1915, from which she never returned. She left the harbor at 9:40 o'clock that morning in command of Lieut. Alfred L. Ede, with Ensign Timothy B. Parker second in command. Efforts to haul her out of the water in time to save her personnel of 21 men failed. The submarine was finally brought to the surface August 29, and towed to drydock, where what was left of the bodies in her interior were removed. The hull was later taken to Pearl Harbor, where it is now rotting in the mud flats.

WONDERFUL TALE OF AN ACTRESS

Struggled with Sickness and Discouragement; How Relieved.

Dayville, Killingly, Conn.—"I shall be glad to have every woman know what I know now, after using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Although I am only 24 years old, I have suffered for the past eight years. I hated the doctors, for a doctor told me to give up the stage where I was playing with my husband.

I had bearing down pains, my health failed me, and I could not work on the stage, and wasn't able to tend my baby or even get around myself. I was always downhearted and discontented with the world, and only lived for the sake of my little girl. The doctor said to move to some quiet little town away from the noisy city, and I might be able to live and feel well, so I went to Dayville in November. At that time I was so sick I could not walk around, and my husband kept house and I stayed in bed. One day in January I read your advertisement in a newspaper, and I sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and started taking it. Within two weeks time I was a different woman, could get around, and felt so good that it was a pleasure to do my housework. I felt contented and happy, and now am the picture of health, and am tempted to return to the stage. We appreciate my health as the most precious thing on earth."—Mrs. H. L.
